

A BOODLE SCHEME FOILED.

The Sullivan Machine Tries to Bleed the City for Campaign Funds.

The Republican Councilmen Prevent the Looting—Democratic Inspectors Appointed—Removed from Pennsylvania Street.

Sim Coy, Mayor Sullivan and others of the Democratic machine had fixed up a little scheme by which $2,000 of the city's money was to be used in paying Democratic heeled for bulldozing in the Fourth and Fifth wards for Sullivan, but the Republican members of the Council thwarted the scheme last night and prevented the machine from confiscating the city's money. The attempt of the machine was clearly illegal, but that cut no figure when there was a chance to get $2,000 to plaster the heeled for Sullivan. At a previous meeting of the Council a resolution was introduced authorizing the transfer of $2,000 from the streets and alleys improvement fund to the streets and repairs fund. The resolution looked harmless enough until some of the members of the machine accidentally let the cat out of the bag by confiding to a friend that the money was to be used for Sullivan. Street Commissioner McFetigan has been recklessly throwing the city's money about until even the Board of Works was compelled to bid him stop. He paid no attention to the board's orders, but went on hiring the Democratic heeled. There was no showing on the streets for the money thrown away. The machine expected to conceal the reckless expenditure while the asphalt companies and others had the streets torn up by giving the impression that the street commissioner had a hand in the work. But after a while the money ran very low, and the machine wanted more to use between now and election. Then the scheme was hatched to have the $2,000 transferred from one fund to the street repairs fund.

The Republican members of the Council are by no means opposed to appropriating money for the employment of laboring men who have no work by reason of the hard times, and last night Councilman Gasper, in speaking on the resolution, said that he would be glad to vote for an appropriation of the city's money for this purpose, but he did not propose to vote for an illegal measure of this kind, a measure that the Democratic city attorney even would declare to be illegal. A provision of the city charter forbids the Council from increasing the amount of an appropriation for any department under conditions like those of the one. The Mayor and the other officers fixed the estimates of the amounts needed for their different funds, and the tax levy was made on that. They tried to fix a low levy and then stealthily raise funds outside of it. Through the blunder of the Mayor, or otherwise, the tax levy had been insufficient, the way the Democratic machine spent money. Others of the Republican members explained their vote, stating that if the money was to be used in giving unemployed laborers work they would be glad to vote for an appropriation to expend the money in that way. The resolution came for final vote last night, but it was defeated, as it lacked the constitutional majority. There were nine ayes and six noes. Gasper jumped up and asked if there was any of the Republican members who had nerve enough to go to the Board of Works and ask and there was a chorus of responses. It developed that there were very few people in the city who had the nerve to face the autocrats who control the city affairs. The ordinance appropriating $6,637.91 for the extra pay of firemen was passed. Councilman Costello's ordinance to remove the express wagons from Mississippi street, just south of Washington, to the tracks below Kentucky avenue, came up for passage. Councilman Gasper moved to strike out that portion of the ordinance allowing the wagons to stand on Pennsylvania, just south of Washington, where the new asphalt has been laid. Messrs. Laus, Puryear, Ryan and Murphy voted against the amendment. Ryan said he voted against the amendment because his year's friends had gone back on him. The ordinance as amended finally passed, only Messrs. Murphy, Laus and Puryear voting against it.

The list of Democratic inspectors appointed by Chairman Taggart of the Democratic city committee to serve at the coming election, was approved by the Council. The list includes the names of Pat Harold and other choice members of the Democratic machine. The list was the property of one of the Sullivan crack drives, was to be one of the inspectors, but since he has come so prominently before the public his name was left off. Below is the list:

The Stand Still Stands.
Although the Board of Safety gave H. D. Pierce a few hours in which to have the fruit stand at Pennsylvania and Market streets removed, a week ago, the stand is still there. Building Inspector Fitchey had his duty outlined by the board some time ago, but he has apparently dropped the matter. He says that he filed a complaint with Deputy Prosecutor Bell on Monday, and that he is done with the matter.

Dr. Wesley Young's Bill.
Dr. Wesley Young filed a bill with the Board of Safety a few days ago for $5 for services rendered fireman Plummer, who was injured at the corner of Washington and Pennsylvania streets and who died a short time after his injuries. The police surgeon arrived a very short time after the accident and some of Plummer's companions think the bill is exorbitant.

Fire Record Again Broken.
The fire record for August was greater than that of any month in the history of the department. July reached the high water mark, but August has overstepped it. Up to 6 o'clock last night, the department had made seventy-four runs during the month and this exceeded the July record by two.
